"O God of Earth and Altar,
Bow down and hear our cry.
Our Earthly rulers falter,
Our people drift and die.
The walls of gold entomb us,
The swords of scorn divide.
Take not Thy Thunder from us,
But take away our Pride."

G.K. Chesterton, English Historian and Theologian

Spartans Fight Hard and Rise to the Playoffs

The Spartan Football Team started the preseason with a loss to Cambridge, and the regular season with a blow away to Jordan Valley. The team achieved victory until they met up with Wallowa, and lost two more times until their Homecoming victory against Crane. With one more game left in the season they had to be victorious to go to the playoffs, and it was to be. But the Spartans met the enemy again in Wallowa for District Play-offs and could not achieve a win.

HOMECOMING WEEK

For Homecoming Week we had many events. Monday we started with bad hair/ugly clothes day. Tuesday was housewife/couch potato day. Wednesday was decade day. Everybody dressed up in the style of their favorite decade like the 20's. Thursday was "Things you wouldn't be caught dead in" day. In the afternoon we had other activities such as the three-legged race, tug of war, and crab race. After the bonfire dinner that night, students snake danced down to the fairgrounds where the bonfire and pep assembly were held. Friday we decorated floats and advisors, then paraded downtown to the library grounds for another pep rally. We returned to the school for our J.V. football game at 11 a.m.; the varsity game started at 1 p.m. The volleyball girls played their games, and later that night we held our Homecoming dance in the gym.

Coaches Peterson and Del Curto took twelve girls to State, the Varsity crew as well as Mandy Gillis, Sara Mader, and Annie Godwin from the J.V. team. Wednesday afternoon they defeated Days Creek 51-42, which meant they played first-ranked St. Paul Friday. That game, which many considered to be the true State Championship game, we lost 37-54. No other State opponent of St. Paul scored as highly against them. PEHS beat Ione 55-35 in its final game, capturing the 3rd place trophy.

Junior-Senior Banquet

Turkey, gravy and mashed potatoes were served to Seniors and their parents at this year's Banquet. Students suffered traditional embarrassment as Jen Jensen and Cambria Curtis read stories gleaned from parents about incidents in the students' lives. Athlete of the year awards were given to Steven Farley, Melissa and Laurie Gulick, and Angie Tucker.

Pine-Eagle Preferences

Pine-Eagle students had a rough year this year with the loss of one student, Matt Halley, and the near loss of Steven Sharp in a farming accident. The year became political when two teachers were cut, one to half-time near her retirement, by the school board. The reasons given for the cuts by the school board were finances and that there were too many teachers at the high school. To show their support for Mr. Crawford and Mrs. Riggs, students walked out of class one morning. The pictures below show the event. A recall election in the Spring unanimously upheld the school board.

SENIOR ADDY DAVIS

JR — SR PROM

The 1993 Jr.-Sr. Prom was one of the most beautiful in recent years. Its theme was "More Than Words." Teal and black, the dominant colors, accented tall pillars and shiny ribbons, and swirled in the design on huge balloons and the frosting of the cake, which was made by Mrs. Baker. Selected Prince and Princess of the prom were Casey Rowen and Didi Elguezabal. Seniors Laurie Gulick and Scott Wright were chosen Prom Queen and King.

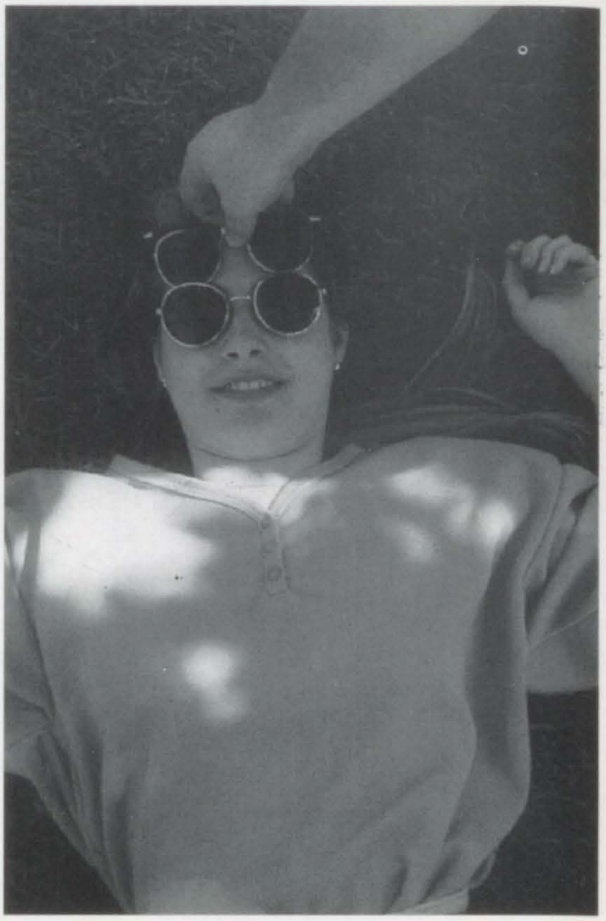
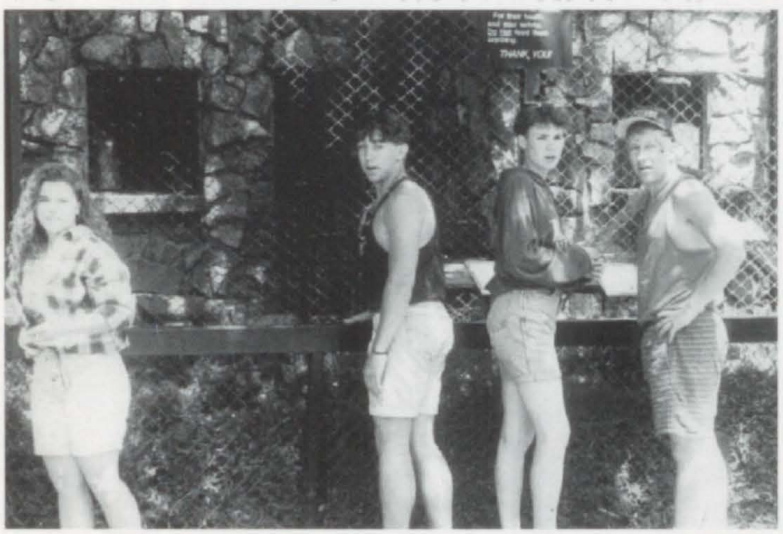
Scenes of some pretty amazing dancing (left) and onlookers reveal that everyone had a pretty good time. Pictures were taken in the lobby, and conversation at the tables was part of the evening's activities.

More Than Words

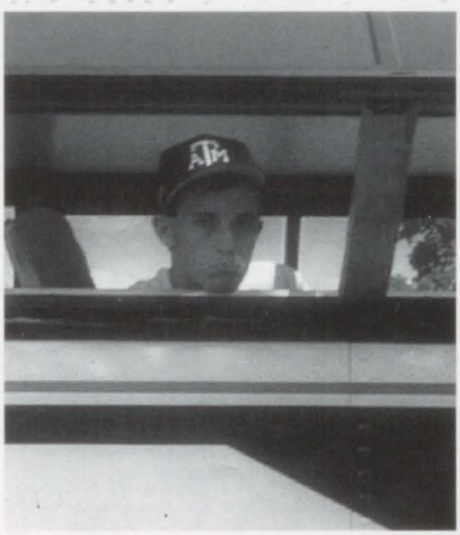
SENIOR TRIP

The Seniors went to Boise for three days this Spring for their Senior trip. The highlight of their time was roller blading through the green belt along the Boise River. Evidently some person(s) tried desperately to keep up with a beautiful blonde skater all afternoon. Other activities included night clubbing, shopping, staying at the Holidrome, and sightseeing.



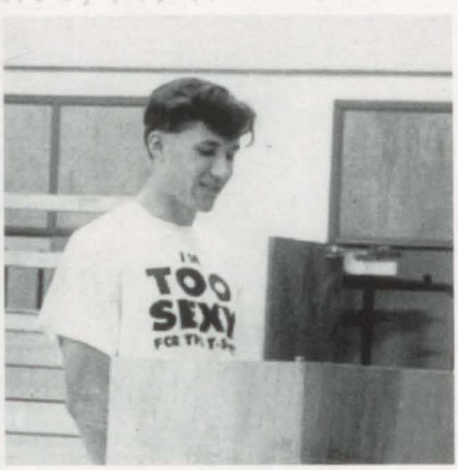


▲▲► Amber Bledsoe catches some "shade". ▲▲ Well-rested and rarin' to go at the beginning of the trip. ▲► The Seniors relax near the University. This was the only sunny week all spring. ▲ Melissa, Brian, Angie and Rich at the zoo; we're not sure whether this is inside or outside the cage. ► A tired Wayne Chastain is bound for Texas A and M next year. ►► Ned, what have you been dreaming about?



And the Year's End

▼◄ Classmates for a long time, Jayson, Amber, Shelly and Robert exemplify the friendships formed. ▼ We think there are a couple of girls at the bottom of this pile in a Boise park. End of the year activities: ▼▼ Physics class members display their hot rods for the test run. ▼▼◄ Running for School Officers for next year are Jennifer Jensen, Michelle Curtis, and Cambria Curtis. Below them Arthur Baker gives his campaign speech for Treasurer. These four won their positions. ▼▼▼◄ Adrian Bergeron, and Ricky Towell, whose red beard he claimed had the better of Michelle's red hair, also ran for offices.



. . .THE LAST DAY

The last day of school was spent checking out, cleaning books and lockers, and feasting on hamburgers prepared by chef Dennis Oliver. This year the day was marked by a special memorial for classmate Matt Halley. A blue spruce was planted by the football scoreboard in his memory. His family, students and faculty all helped plant the tree after Rev. Bill Shields delivered a hopefilled message.

▲▲ Students gather aroung the sizzling burgers that Mr. Oliver and Mr. Miles cooked. ▲▲► Casey Rowen rests thoughtfully from digging dirt for the Halley tree. ▲ Gary Bates eyes the food. ▲► Bill Shields spoke about how planting the Halley tree was a "good thing to do." ▲►► Dan Pollack and Didi Elguezabal wait in line for the lunch. ► Jon Miles and Adrian Bergeron worked hard planting the tree.

PINE-EAGLE GRADUATES 30

On Sunday, May 23, 1993, Pine-Eagle High School held its Commencement. It had originally been scheduled for the day before, but the State Track meet conflicted, so it was moved up. Thirty graduates received their certificates, and Mr. Chuck Wiltse, the District's Interim Superintendent, was the guest speaker. Ned Hammar was the outstanding recipient of scholarships and awards.

▲◀◀ Robert Miller goes up to receive the Chub Smith Scholarship. ▲◀ Kerri Shold didn't know as she entered how honored she would be with numerous awards. ▼ Ned Hammar delivered a humorous Valedictory address. ▼▼◀◀ Salutatorian Inti St. Clair spoke about "believing in ourselves." ▼▼◀ Melissa gave the history of the class. When she got to Travis' name, she stopped the whole show. Travis WHO? ▼▼ Mr. Wiltse spoke about how right thinking is important. It forms good or bad attitudes. He also encouraged students to be thankful and take pride in themselves.
